Spread out the damaged fabric on a firm surface (ironing board). Cut out the patch on all sides, leaving at least 1 cm excess, round off edges. Place the iron-on patch on the fabric with the coated side facing downwards. In the case of cotton or linen, set the iron to level 3 and iron on for about 25 seconds with firm pressure. For delicate fabrics set the iron to the permissible maximum temperature and iron on for about 35 seconds. Place a thin cloth or ironing net on top for protection. Leave the article of clothing to cool off for a few minutes, turn inside out and iron on the wrong side for about 25–30 seconds, applying pressure. Then leave the article of clothing in place to cool off. If necessary repeat the ironing process. Only dry-iron – without a damp cloth – without steam
