Product information

In this collection you will find good basic garments, a Bucket bag that holds what you need and a Baguette bag for small necessities. With the exception of the bags, all designs are knitted from neck down with varied techniques, constructions, knitting tension and degree of difficulty.
Common for the entire collection is that it consists of good, long-lasting garments, where everything is easy to style up and down.

SandnesGarn magazines are only available in combination with the yarn qualities and should not be sold individually to end customers.
