Our olive wood crochet hooks are made of high quality wood in many steps, partly by hand. Therefore, we attach particular importance to durable and high-quality materials.

The wood for our needles comes from very old olive trees that are no longer bearing and carries a long history.

Combined with high quality crochet hook tips, the result is a hand-me-down that is wonderfully light and warm to the touch, and beautiful to look at as well.

The wooden handles are finished with a natural, vegetable oil and finished with bio-wax. In the process, the wax is baked on, ensuring a durable surface that lasts much longer than a coating applied only superficially.

The very hard wood of the olive tree provides a sturdy handle that becomes more beautiful with time.
