Digital rotally for knitting and crocheting
Working on a large project or a complicated pattern? With Prym's automatic rotally, no row will be left uncounted. At the touch of a button, the rotally digitally and reliably records every row. This allows you to maintain an overview at all times and keeps your mind free for new ideas and patterns.

Reliable memory function
What makes the automatic rotally from Prym so special is that the integrated memory function reliably saves the last count, even over an extended period of time. This is particularly practical when the knitting project is paused. The stitch counting aid can also be reset at the touch of a button.

Comfortable and long-lasting
The transparent, adjustable band makes it easy to wear the automatic rotally on your finger, meaning this light-blue knitting accessory is always to hand. The replaceable battery included with the product ensures the digital rotally will be a long-lasting companion when you are knitting and crocheting.
